Experiences

2025 - pres. | Exein

Brand and Product Marketing Manager 🇬🇧 🇮🇹

Exein is a cybersecurity company specializing in runtime protection for embedded systems, IoT devices, and physical AI. Its new flagship technology is Photon, a preemptive runtime security solution for any Linux-based device built on eBPF technology, deployable across cloud-native environments, Kubernetes, edge computing, and hybrid infrastructures, designed to operate at AI speed against zero-day attacks and runtime threats.

I drive brand and product marketing strategy across international markets, with a focus on deep tech and cybersecurity. I manage the full communication funnel: from go-to-market strategy to demand generation, coordinating international agencies for digital deliveries: website, landing pages, email marketing automation, social campaigns, and branded visuals. I oversee omnichannel content strategy for both corporate channels and Executive profiles (executive thought leadership).

I led the launch of Photon at RSA Conference 2026 in San Francisco, developing the end-to-end product launch strategy from narrative framework to competitive positioning. I coordinated participation at Embedded World 2026 in Nuremberg, with live marketing, field marketing, pre- and post-event digital activations, and partnership marketing. I supported communication activities for the opening of the Taiwan office, contributing to the company's expansion into the APAC market.

I collaborate on a weekly basis with Gartner and other research institutes on market positioning and analyst relations, contributing to vertical content production within the Preemptive Runtime Management framework. I implemented and currently manage HubSpot as the company CRM, building lead capture and nurture workflows for global events and product releases, with production of multilingual marketing collateral for international markets.

2022 - 2025 | Mashfrog Group

Marketing Communication Brand Consultant 🇮🇹

I worked on strategic projects for major players in the energy, telecommunications, and mobility sectors, including Enel X Way, Enel X, Free To X, Alia Servizi Ambientali, and Tiscali. I was responsible for designing and implementing multichannel communication campaigns across B2B, B2C, and B2G segments, defining editorial plans, content strategies, and brand awareness actions.

I coordinated creative teams and copywriters to deliver integrated campaigns, managed content and email marketing activities (Salesforce Marketing Cloud, Magnews), supported internal communication projects, and contributed to the development of national environmental campaigns. I also conducted benchmarking and data analysis to support marketing functions in setting objectives and evaluating performance.

2017 - 2022 | B2X srl

Marketing Communication Brand Specialist 🇬🇧 🇮🇹

I managed omnichannel marketing campaigns for both B2C and B2B clients, overseeing content on CMS platforms, performance analysis, and reporting for clients such as Bulgari Hotels and Resorts, Chicco and Goovi. I coordinated content management strategies with Italian and international teams across websites, blogs, e-commerce platforms, and social media. I also supported store management activities with campaigns focused on lead generation and conversion.

About me

I am a strategic and creative Communication & Marketing professional with a proven track record in brand and product storytelling for tech and deep tech companies, operating across international markets.

I specialize in turning complex, cutting-edge technologies into clear, compelling narratives bridging the gap between technical depth and market relevance. I see marketing as the intersection of vision, data, and storytelling, and I bring this mindset to every touchpoint, from go-to-market strategies to omnichannel content campaigns.

I have extensive experience collaborating with international teams, agencies, and partners on cross-channel, cross-functional projects managing multiple workstreams simultaneously across digital, editorial, events, and product marketing. I thrive in fast-paced, innovation-driven environments where ideas need to move fast and land with impact.
